SMC Fellowship News

Fall is upon us. Though it seems we have a way to go to get back to "normalcy," there are positive changes on the horizon. I live around the corner from a middle school and seeing the kids going back and forth again puts a smile on my face. A year ago the soccer fields were empty and now we hear the familiar sounds of parents cheering on their little ones on Saturday morning. We are getting there. (Not to mention – Playoff Baseball! Go Giants!)

Our AA Around the World piece this month is a good reminder that, while most of us are still unable to travel, new technology gives us access to meetings all around the world, any time of the day or night.

Reminder: Per the San Mateo County Health Ordinance, face coverings are required indoors regardless of vaccination status.

Service Opportunities: If you are looking for service opportunities, please check the website. There are always openings and, if you are missing in-person meetings, this is a great way to connect with others in the fellowship.

ALKATHONS 2021-2022

We are excited to announce our upcoming 2021-2022 A.A. Alkathon. The Alkathon was started 47 years ago to provide round the clock meetings at during the holidays. Usually held in person with hundreds of attendees and great food, this year's Alkathon is being planned to be held on Zoom, as it was last year. We are working with the church to see if a hybrid/in person option is feasible and will provide updates as we have more information.

All information can be found on the website alkathonsmc.org. Each meeting is for 90mins. The first meeting starts at Noon on the first day and the last meeting starts at Noon on the last day. Meetings will start every even hour, 24/7, on the following dates:

Thanksgiving A.A. Alkathon Wed, Nov 24, 12PM - Fri, Nov 26, 12PM

Christmas A.A. Alkathon Fri, Dec 24, 12PM - Sun, Dec 26, 12PM

New Year's A.A. Alkathon Fri, Dec 31, 12PM - Sun, Jan 2, 12PM

If your Home Group is interested in hosting a meeting, please find the Group Participant form on alkathonsmc.org. The Alkathon is open to groups outside of San Mateo County, including internationally. Your submission must be received by Saturday, October 23, 2021 at 8AM. A random drawing of all group submissions will take place on Sunday, October 24, 2021.

There are many opportunities to be of service at this year's Alkathon. If you are interested in a service position, please complete the Service Participant form on the website. If you have questions about the A.A. Alkathon, email AlkathonSMC@gmail.com.

If your group wishes to make a donation to the A.A. Alkathon, please Venmo our Alkathon treasurer, Ruchi, using the Venmo QR code below.

What does our Central Office do?

The San Mateo County Fellowship's Central Office belongs to the A.A. groups of San Mateo County. We help carry A.A.'s message in the following ways (and more):

- ❖ Maintain a 24/7 telephone line which responds to inquiries from still-suffering alcoholics seeking help, A.A. members in need of information, and from members of the professional community and the general public. After office hours, this line is staffed by Teleservice volunteers.
- ❖ Maintain a Twelfth Step volunteer list.
- ❖ Maintain and publish group meeting schedules, in print, on our website, and in the Meeting Guide App.
- ❖ We stock a large selection books and pamphlets for sale (many are available in Spanish).
- ❖ We offer sobriety chips for sale, for both individuals and groups.
- ❖ We work closely with local A.A. service committees: Bridging the Gap, Hospitals and Institutions, Public Information/Cooperation with the Professional Community, as well as with San Mateo County General Service District 5 and the Northern California Council of Alcoholics Anonymous
- ❖ We support and participate in many local A.A. events such as Unity Day and the holiday Alkathons.
- ❖ We maintain our web site, aa-san-mateo.org, with up-to-date meeting listings, a schedule of A.A. events, the High Sobriety newsletter, and links to other A.A. web sites,
- ❖ We maintain a library of A.A. speaker CDs which are available for rent for a nominal fee.
- ❖ We publish the newsletter, High Sobriety, sent at no charge to all registered San Mateo County A.A. groups and available by subscription to all A.A. members. Faithful Fivers receive a free copy as well.

Who pays for our Central Office? We, the members of A.A., do. Our Seventh Tradition states that we are self-supporting through our own contributions. Central Office also receives donations from individual alcoholics (such as through our Faithful Fivers program). Other sources include our annual anniversary party and income from the sale of A.A. literature.

Central Office has resumed regular hours Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm.

Become a Faithful Fiver

Pledge $5 per month (or more) to support your Central Office. You can pay monthly, quarterly, or annually. Your personal contributions make our vital services possible.

Call (650) 577-1310 Monday-Friday between 8:30 and 4:30, or stop by Central Office to enroll. All Fivers receive a copy of High Sobriety!

BIRTHDAY CLUB

Spot Check On I-94

BY: ANDY A. | ST. PETERS, MO.

STEP TEN: We continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly admitted it.

We were due at the birthday party in just a few minutes. We were almost always late to parties, but we had to be early for this one because we were hosting. I hadn't looked at my GPS directions to the party venue until the car ride was already underway. "Turn right when you exit the interstate," it announced, or so I thought.

"Look for street numbers," I said to the carload of fourth-grade girls and my son Silas, who is 8 and on the autism spectrum. He was experiencing the accumulated auditory overstimulation of riding with a carload of fourth-grade girls. It took a half-mile or more to see a street number: 1360. We were looking for 524. "How long till we get there?" one of the girls shouted in her "outside voice." "This is boring!"

"It's probably about a mile and a half away," I replied. "So, like, 20 minutes?" she asked. "Like, three minutes," I said, and all the other kids laughed. I felt slightly superior to the entire world for a half-second until I noticed another street number, 1548, and another, 1560. The numbers were increasing when they should have been decreasing. I felt instant frustration, anger, inadequacy, fear. My heart rate was climbing. Under my breath, I muttered, "We're going the wrong [expletive] way!"

"Did you just say the F-word?" my daughter Sarah asked, shocked and surprised. "Well..." I muttered. I thought about lying, a snap reaction "old Andy" used to do. But I confessed instead. "No one was supposed to hear that," I said.

"My dad just said the F-word. In a car full of little kids!" Sarah announced at top volume. "It's my 10th birthday, all my best friends are here, and my dad just said the F-word. This is the best day ever!"

"I said the F-word in class one time," announced the bored girl. I thought...only once?

But I couldn't rejoice in superiority this time because I was too busy visualizing ways that the party would be ruined now that we were suddenly running late. It didn't help that Silas was starting to melt down from the excess stimulation, and there was nothing I could do right then to help him. As though that weren't enough, I was extremely disappointed with myself that my daughter had heard me curse.

But right then, I got the buzz of a phone notification. I pulled over. It was a text from my brother: "I'm here," it said. "Where are you?"

"I went the wrong way on 94," I texted back. "Oh my," came a text back. Then another: "Are you OK?" followed by, "Like wrong turn or wrong way?"

"Wrong turn," I texted back. And somehow, at the U-turn I was able to stop and experience some perspective. Some gratitude. Some acceptance. A nice out-of-self-inventory of what my current situation really was. I realized that I was in the car with my daughter and son on a very special day. She had her best friends with her. More friends would be waiting at the party venue.

My wife Tiffany would arrive at the venue before I would, to check in, to set up, to greet arriving guests. She had done a ton of work already to pull this party off. We would still make it to the party by its scheduled start time, we just wouldn't be early like we'd planned.

Silas would have relief from the noise in just a few minutes and, overall, he's becoming more and more high-functioning. At parent-teacher conferences the previous week, a small group of educators told me Silas was doing so well in school that they were going to reevaluate him to see if he needed special services at all.

My daughter was shocked enough by hearing me curse under my breath that it somehow made her day. She didn't remember that "old Andy," the drinking Andy, used to curse at top volume all the time. I'm sober now and sober is my normal; "old Andy" mostly stays gone.

And most importantly, this upsetting detour only resulted in a simple wrong turn, not something much worse. I wasn't driving this carload of my kids and other people's kids directly into oncoming traffic. I could be very, very grateful for that.

Yesterday is history. Tomorrow is a mystery. All we have is today. After running that spot check inventory today and deciding how to proceed, I determined that Sarah was correct—today was the best day ever. Because we both decided to make it so and oriented our outlooks accordingly.

What I've learned in AA is that all of us, every day, have the power to make today the best or worst day ever. And sitting here at the end of it—yes, today was long—I'd say it was challenging. It had some down moments. I could have done more, and I could have done better. But all things tallied, while comparing it to my own history and letting tomorrow's mystery fade into the shadows where it belongs, today was the best. Tomorrow will be even better.

The things we do affect others. Picking up her daughter at the party, one parent pulled Tiffany aside and thanked her for inviting her child. They had just moved here. The girl was new in school and a little depressed, discouraged. She didn't feel she had any friends. When she got that party invitation from Sarah, she got some hope and some healthy pride. And she showed up and had a great time. And we all had a better time because she was there.

Now that I'm sober, life is a two-way street. You make a wrong turn, all you have to do is turn around and head in the direction of your best day.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

A VISUAL HISTORY OF ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS

Originally developed as the souvenir book for the 2020 International Convention in Detroit, this colorful, gift-sized volume serves as both a lavishly illustrated tour through A.A.'s history and a lively celebration of our Fellowship.

Powerful images — some never before published — and short descriptive texts walk us through the people, places and things integral to A.A.'s early growth, and forward to today's vibrant, international Fellowship.

Also included is a highlight on the Virtual 2020 International Convention, a special focus on A.A. in Detroit, and updated coverage of recent digital innovations in A.A. group life.

A VISUAL HISTORY OF ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS can be purchased at our Central office for $10.00

AA AROUND THE WORLD

AA EVERYWHERE

BY: ADAM K. | BAYSIDE, NEW YORK

My AA friend Mahesh and I just had a hilarious back and forth text conversation about baseball. This is normal, despite the fact that he lives in Auckland, New Zealand. We met in my home state of New York. I gave him a tour of Queens, which he still fondly recalls. We met again in Atlanta, Georgia, for the International Convention. We shall meet again, somewhere.

Alex from Akron usually drops me a line when I'm feeling low, and I always appreciate it. Doris, who provided one of the few meetings I had via phone while living in Colombia, remains one of my biggest cheerleaders. I remember Jeff and John, who took me around Beijing on a Vespa after a meeting, whenever I'm feeling nostalgic.

I can still smell the ancient stonework and see the massive marble columns beneath the historic church in Paris, where I attended my first AA meeting in a foreign land. Dieu Merci—they spoke English! I also recall the endless announcements of events at Ohio meetings, the bizarrely enormous venues found in Southern California meetings, and the humble confines of alcoholics helping each other in a New Orleans suburb.

I've had the massive good fortune of being able to travel during my 11 years of sobriety. Wherever I go, there are fellow alcoholics who I can connect with. How lucky am I? To know that wherever I go, the hand of AA is there for me? In Beijing, I arrived early to a meeting after miserably failing to find it on my first attempt.

The chairperson welcomed me and asked if I would I like to speak. "I don't speak Chinese," I said with a laugh. "No, no. I'll translate for you," the kind woman offered. I chose my words very carefully, as it turns out translating English into Mandarin is no easy task. When I told the group about my father, who had 13 years sober when he picked up, and committed suicide, I caught the gaze of a local middle-aged man, a newcomer. When he shared through the translator, I learned that his father also took his own life, and he suffered all the shame, horror and sorrow. He thanked me for offering him hope that life can get much better. My heart cleaved. It felt as if a powerful hand was squeezing it. Here the two of us were, different languages, yet brothers, survivors of the same shipwreck. We understood one another at the deepest level. We often hear about the "language of the heart," but to really experience it? What a blessing.

Once I was the loneliest man on earth, who nobody could understand. Now the world greets me with open arms. It's amazing to see the global action of our Fellowship at work. It's a blessing that's hard to put into words. I have such tremendous gratitude for all those people, groups, and men and women within the General Service structure who keep AA alive.

A man can fail many times, but he isn't a failure until he begins to blame somebody else.
